

Studying Animal Behavior and Communication in the Wild

Thailand

ADVISOR CONTACT

Anna Biuso
annabius@buffalo.edu

TERMS OFFERED

Summer

QUALIFICATIONS

- Undergraduate students
- 2.5 GPA

LOCATION

Spend time in the metropolis of Bangkok and in the beautiful biosphere at Sakaerat in Thailand. Explore the rich culinary and cultural diversity of Thailand while gaining essential field research skills. Learn about the animals that occupy the forest during the day and night to understand their behavior and forms of communication.

ACADEMIC OFFERINGS

Students will earn 3 credits of APY 344: Studying Animal Behavior and Communication. This course is eligible to be used to fulfill elective credit towards the UB Anthropology major and related minors. It may also fulfill general elective credit for other majors/minors. Please check-in with your academic advisor.

ABOUT OUR OFFICE

We are located in 201 Talbert Hall and offer drop-in advising hours Monday-Friday, 11AM-4PM, no appointment necessary.

Email: educationabroad@buffalo.edu

Phone: 716-645-3912

Website: buffalo.edu/educationabroad